A week with professor:

PAUL CRAIG

FEBRUARY 14-17, 2017

PAUL CRAIG is currently a Professor of English Law at the University of Oxford and a Fellow of St John's College. His fields of specialization and research interests include Administrative Law, Constitutional Law, European Community Law, and Human Rights Law. He has published widely in the aforementioned fields, and has been granted several prizes for his work, such as the Gibbs Prize in 1972, the Henriques Prize in 1973, and the Vinerian Scholar in 1974.

PROGRAMA IMPULS

PROGRAMA IMPULS (Programa d'Accions per a l'Impuls del Prestigi Acadèmic i Social dels Estudis Oficials de la UdL) aims to promote and strengthen the prestige of the degrees offered by the University of Lleida at the local, national, and international levels. Within the frame of this program, the Faculty of Law, Economics and Tourism, along with the Administrative Law Area, have invited Prof. Paul Craig from the University of Oxford. For a week, Prof. Craig will take part in the academic activities of the Faculty, giving lectures and several seminars to students and other faculty members. He will also partake in a panel discussion at the Congress, which is to be held at the end of the week.
